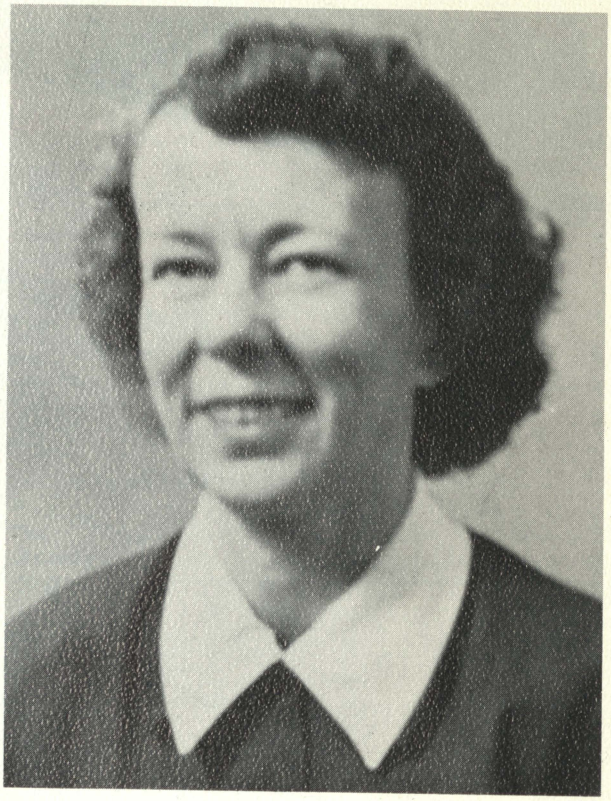
DEDICATION



ANNE TAWES WHITTINGTON

BECAUSE WE ARE GRATEFUL

TO YOU FOR --

To a fine student.
Good luck all
thro your school
career Miss Anne

Mothering us when we were small
Instantly answering our beck and call;
Sponsoring our yearbook these six years
Starting us on our high school careers.

Always wearing a friendly smile
Neat and natural all the while;
Never too busy to lend a hand
Everyone thinks you're just grand!

GEORGE F. CARRINGTON
PRINCIPAL

Dear Advertiser:

This page is dedicated to YOU! It is a personal message of appreciation for the patronage you have given to our yearbook this year and in years past.

Securing advertising was the first task our staff was assigned; we were a bit timid about it, but your co-operative attitude and willing response encouraged us to continue with the many duties involved in publishing this book.

By supplementing the cost of the yearbook through advertising, you have made it possible for many students who could not afford the full cost of a book to purchase one.

We hope that you will feel amply repaid in the thought that you have created good will, and we trust that the students of today, who are the citizens of tomorrow, will return your kindness.

Sincerely,

THE SEA SHELL STAFF

Very best wishes to you, Ronnie.
Miss Parks

Our principal, George F. Carrington, peruses a book in the guidance room.

Best wishes to Ronnie!
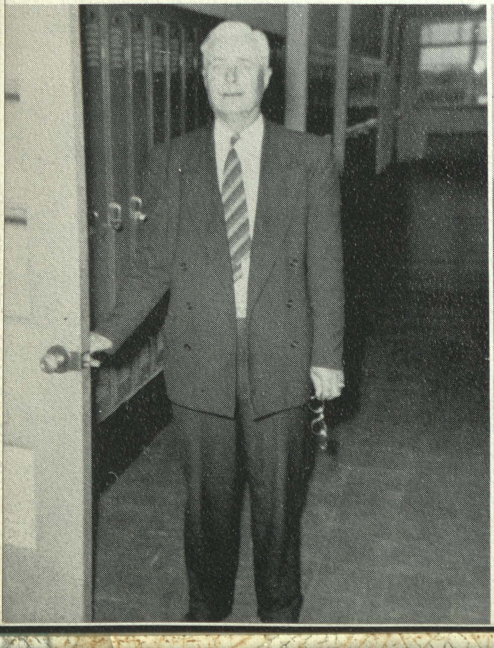
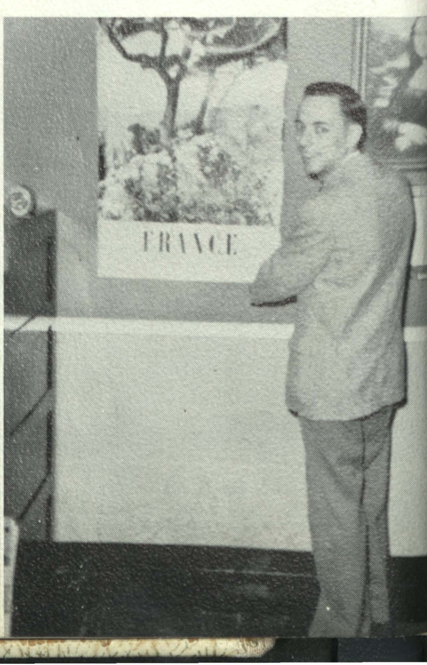
Geo. F. Carrington

Catherine Parks presents the core subje
Anne Whittington the science and math t
the seventh grade.

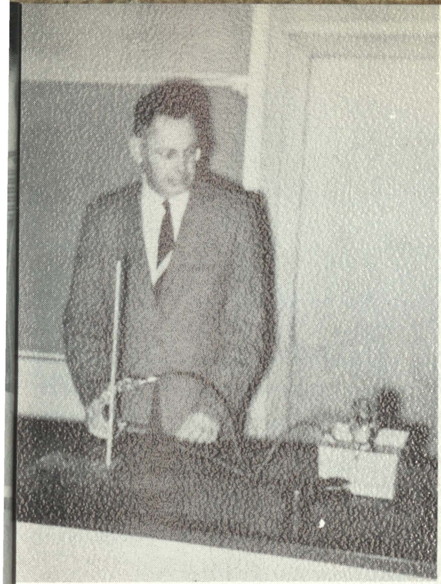
ADMINISTRATION AND CURRICULUM

Jesse Evans serves as assistant principal. Catherine Briddell is in the English and social studies department. Edwin Riggin has replaced Miss Sallie in languages, while still assisting in eighth grade core.



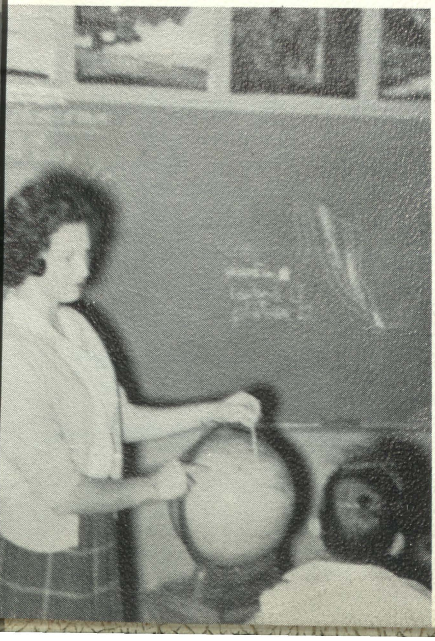


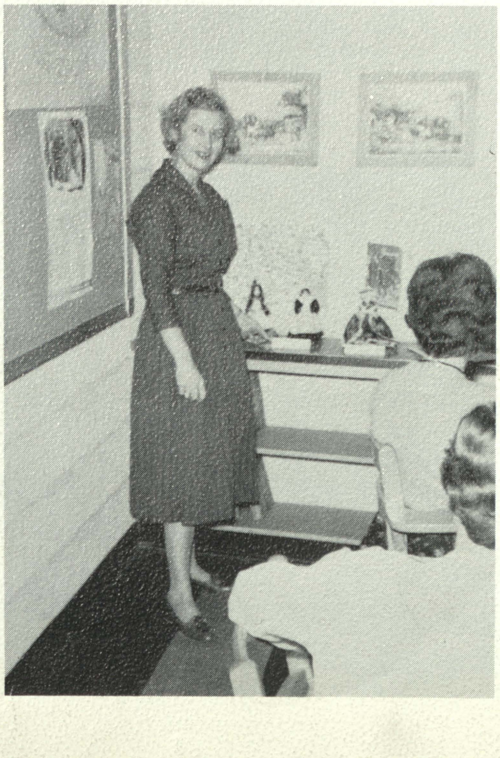
Good Luck
through all
Your

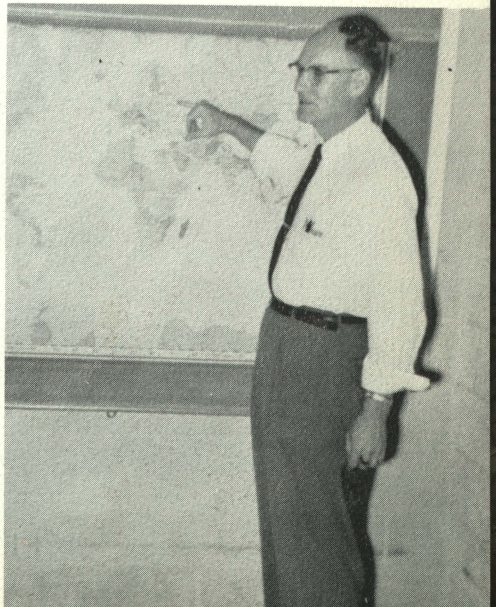


Since the emphasis in our world today is on science, we are fortunate to have a strong department. Chester White sets up a chemistry experiment, while Sara Blueford demonstrates a solar-system chart. Irma Riggin, eighth grade instructor, explains atmospheric pressure using a chicken-house water fountain.

Barbara Tull and Tom Larsen, ninth grade instructors, place the emphasis on geography in our global world. Hope Cullen demonstrates eras in American literature with costumed dolls.





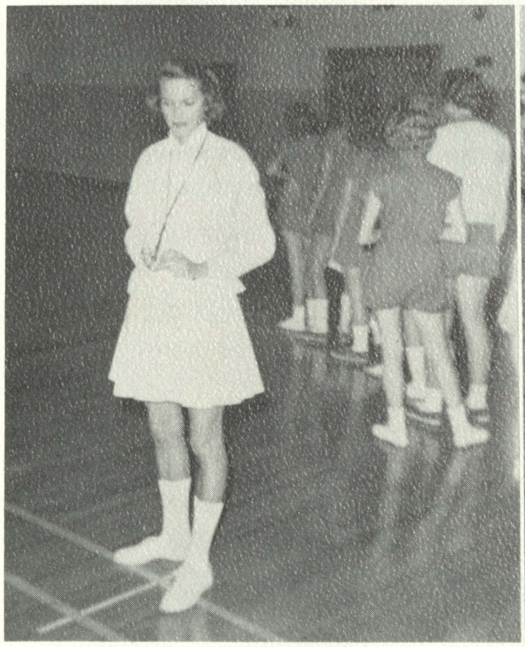


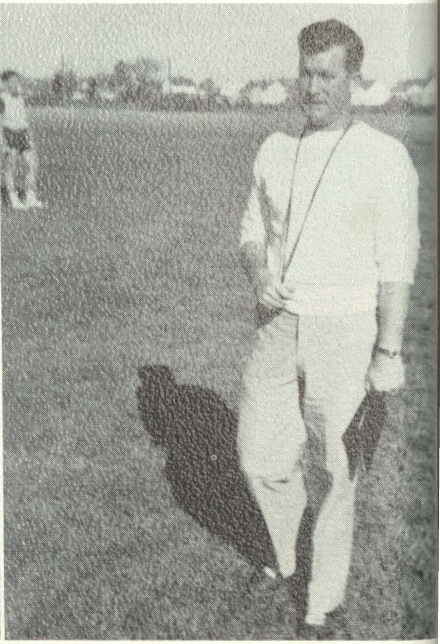
This

Our school offers library and guidance service under the direction of Elizabeth Hoagland, shown labeling library books. The special subjects illustrated on this page include a comprehensive music course under the capable instruction of Margaret Lee Tawes.

Good luck
to a bouncing boy
of the seventh grade!
Mrs. Hoagland

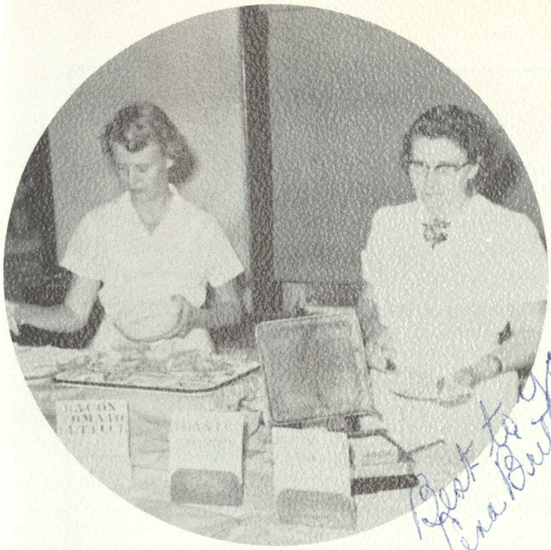
The physical education department is adequately staffed and equipped. Our outstanding sports records are a tribute to the leadership of Eleanor Christopher and Elmo Powell.



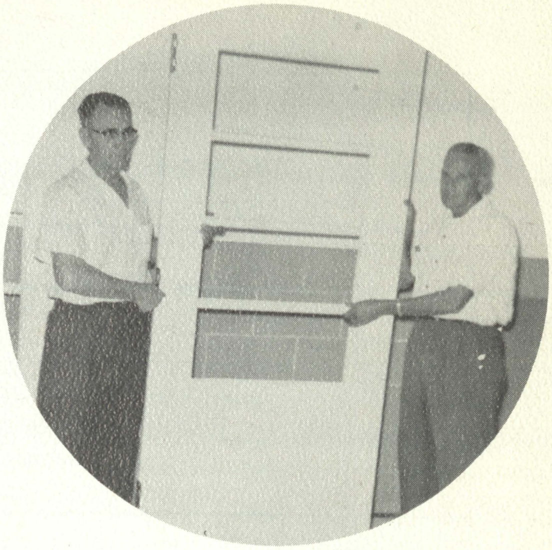


Good Luck
through all
your

Home Economics for the girls and Industrial Arts for the boys are other special subjects. Rosabelle Tyler assists the home demonstration agent. Jimmie Lee Howard illustrates the use of a rip saw.



Best to You
Lena Brittingham



The cafeteria is staffed by Lena Brittingham and Betty Landon. Lloyd Stevens and Charles Sterling are in charge of maintenance.

The commercial department, under the direction of Lou Ella Tawes and Marilyn Riggin, offers courses in shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, and related subjects. Edward Crockett heads the social studies department; Jack Morgan has joined our staff as a coach and math teacher.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Some of the things for which the Student Council assumes responsibility are: managing the Magazine Campaign; conducting the March of Dimes Drive; ushering for open house; making plans for a Booster Club for Basketball; and sponsoring a party.

Recently the Student Council of C. H. S. joined the state, regional, and national organizations. The monitor system was organized by the Student Council although it is being carried out by the Senior Class.

This year's officers are as follows: President, Jerry Evans; Vice-President, Carol Lawson; Secretary, Margaret Daugherty; Treasurer, Josephine Butler.

F.H.A.

The emblem of the Future Homemakers of America is octagonal in shape and bears the name of the organization, FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA, around the top of the plane while around the lower side of it is the motto, TOWARD NEW HORIZONS. In the center there is a house supported by two hands which symbolizes that the future homes of America are in the hands of its youth.

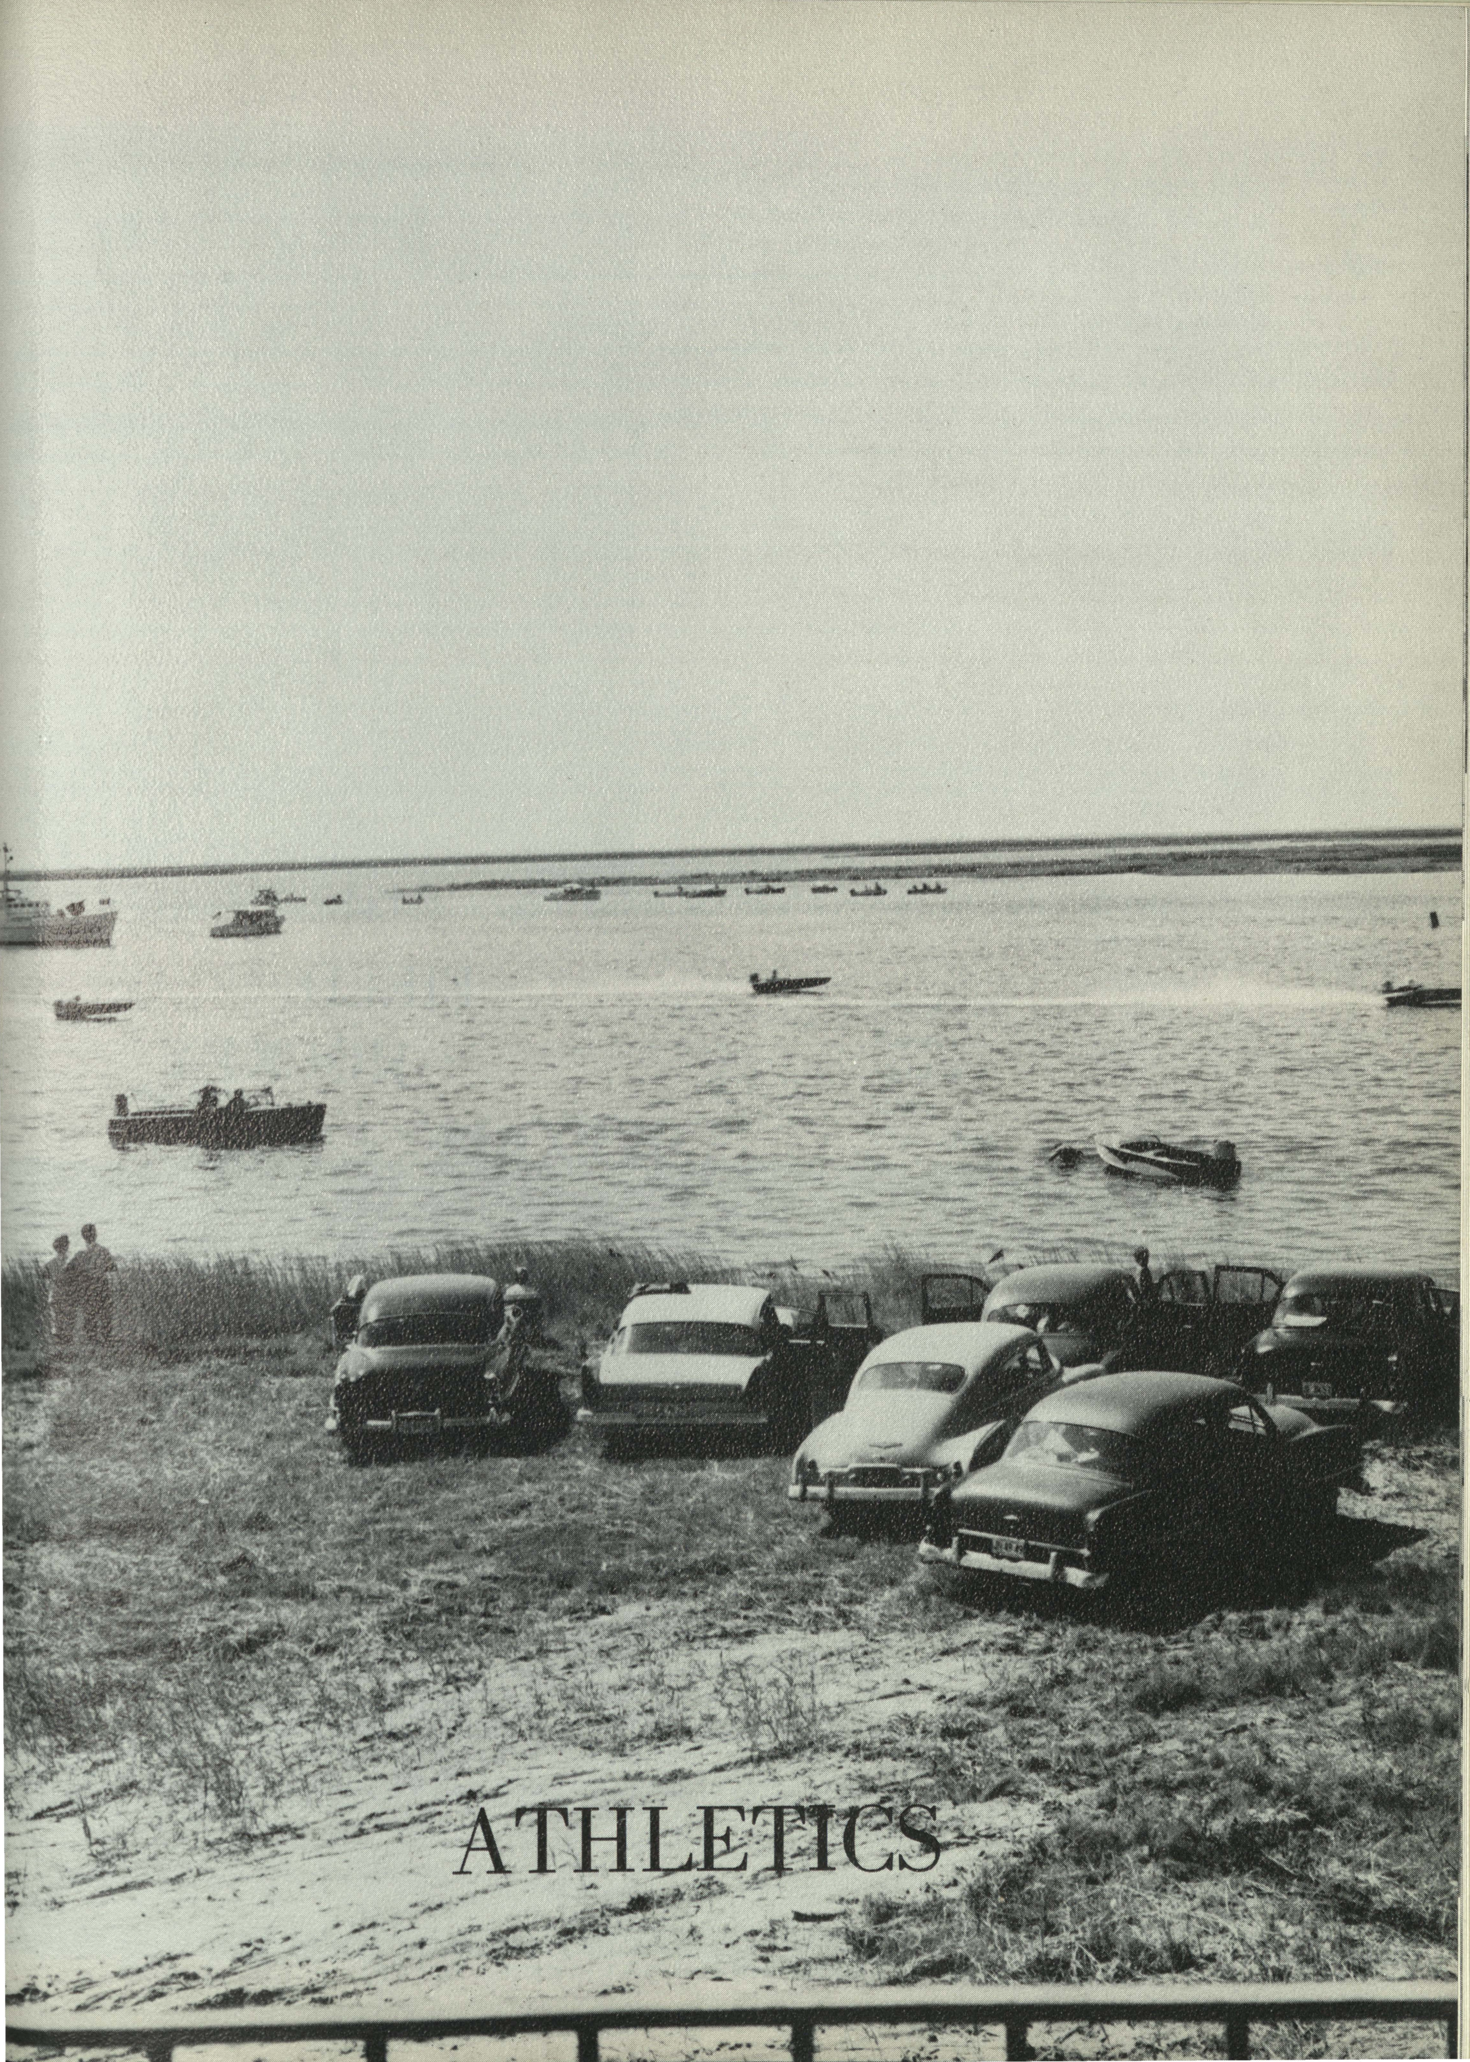
THE CRISFIELD POST



ATHLETICS

The Crisfield High field hockey eleven completed its second straight season undefeated, as they came through an eight-game schedule unscathed. Only one opponent was able to score against the Crisfield defense. Prospects look bright for another season since juniors and sophomores dominate the successful eleven. Lois Ann Ward will be lost by graduation Coach Eleanor Christopher is justifiably proud of her girls, and she is hopeful that they will continue in future years their outstanding feats in the varsity sport of field hockey.

SOCCER

Soccer as a varsity sport at Crisfield High School was revived after a lapse of five years. Coach Powell was faced with the task of developing players without any previous experience, and the emphasis this season was placed on future development of players. The team played a varsity schedule of eight games and performed well, considering all factors involved. Most of the players came from the lower classes, so that in future seasons we may expect the varsity soccer teams to compare as well as our teams in other sports. The outstanding feat of this year's team featured its winning two games and playing well in all other games in which they suffered defeats.

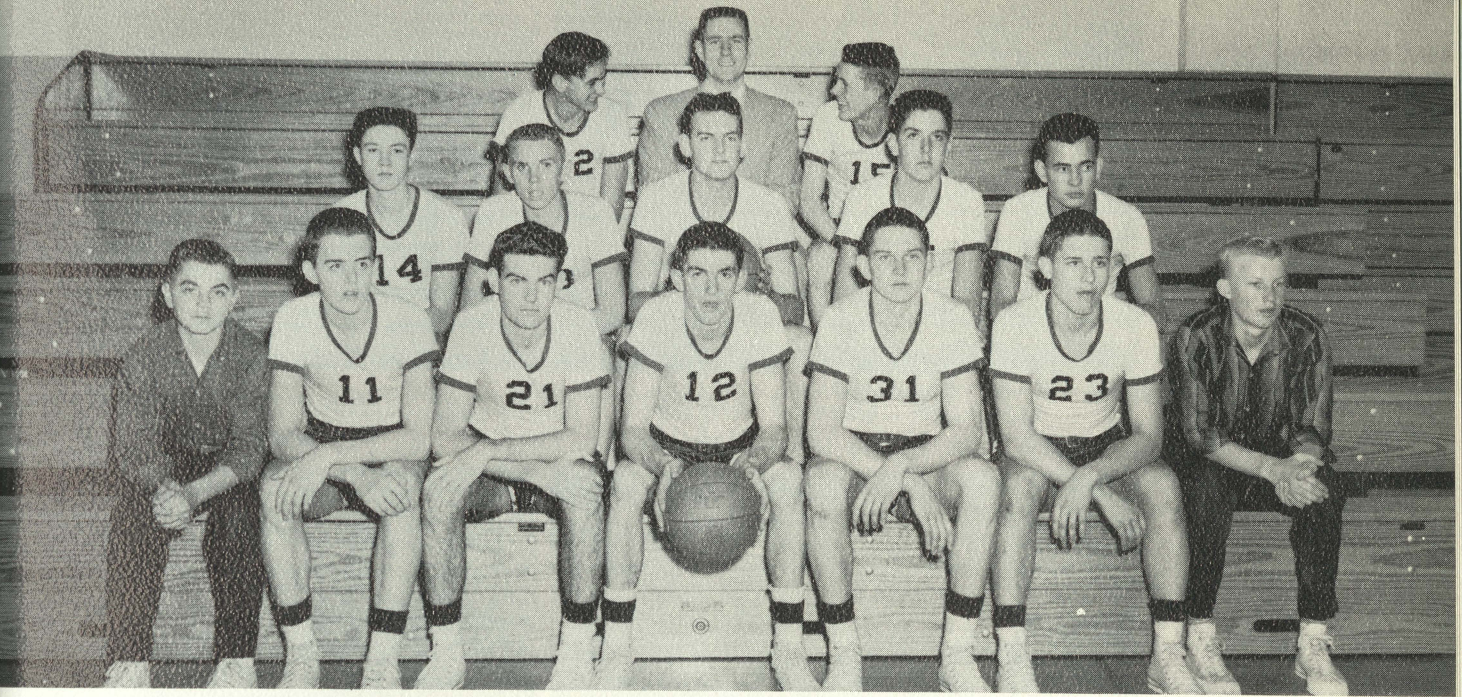
Coach with Captains Pinto and Ward

Coach Eleanor Christopher started the season feeling the loss of five seniors from last year's team. The new organization has presented a creditable record however, having won every contest so far this season, with one game remaining to be played. This makes the third straight season that the girls have been undefeated; and, in four years, they have lost only one contest. Lois Ward and Pat Pinto, seniors, have contributed much through their experience; Roberta Wharton helped in the starting line-up during the latter part of the year. The youngsters who will be left next year hope to continue this great effort on the court.



ANOTHER UNDEFEATED SEASON!

Coach Jack Morgan, who returned to his Alma Mater as basketball coach, faced the task of keeping up the past record of CHS teams. He and his current edition of the Crabbers surprised his followers by remaining undefeated, with prospects of going to the State Championship finals this year. The team is composed of four seniors - Stew Emely, Jerry Evans, Dicky Ward, and Larry Marshall - and one junior, Charlie Mc-Clenahan. As in the past, there were no outstanding individual stars; our victories have been due to excellent team play. The victorious squad will represent the county in the district tournament again this season; and, if successful, they will go to the finals at the University of Maryland. Coach Morgan and his boys deserve a great deal of credit for this record. Coach and Captains Evans and Emely are pictured below.
